DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the screw, bucket and vibrating bed conveyors recited in claims 15-17 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kuzub et al. in view of Felbeck.

There is disclosed in Kuzub an extraction apparatus, comprising: a support cart 24 having front and rear ends, a rectangular frame 25, 26 having legs 36; a conveyor means having a proximal and distal ends, a collection path 10 and a longitudinal axis 11, 12, the conveyor being mounted to the frame of the support cart; and a mechanical sweeper 49 mounted to the conveyor.

Felbeck discloses an extraction device having a support cart, including forward and rearward legs.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the support cart of Kuzub with that disclosed in Felbeck, for the purpose of transporting the conveyor easier.

In regards to the use of the device to "remove pomace", such is intentional use only and provides no structural limitations to the claims. The "receiver bin" is not positively recited as part of the invention and is therefor not considered structurally limiting.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-14 are allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Clyne, Craine, Behlen and Holdren et al. are cited for their disclosure of the state of the art.
